3. Communications

Chair Harper stated the Board could make announcements under this item. He also acknowledged San Francisco Government TV staff, Jesse Larson and Egan O’Rourke, for broadcasting each meeting live.

4. Board of Director’s New and Old Business

Chair Harper indicated his focus over the next few months will be on the budget and anticipates information items in the months prior to the adoption of the budget. He also stated Directors can request future agenda items under this item.

5. Executive Director’s Report
   - Construction Update
   - Sponsorship Presentation

Executive Director Ayerdi-Kaplan reported that the Mello Roos Community Facilities District (CFD) is now finalized. On January 20th, Mayor Lee signed the Ordinance authorizing the levy and collection of special taxes in the CFD as well as the resolution authorizing the issuance of special tax bonds. The CFD will provide substantial funding for both Phase 1 and Phase 2 of the Transbay Program. She also stated that the sale of Transbay Redevelopment Block 9 closed on February 10th for $43 million. She further reported that Amtrak commenced construction of their facilities at the Temporary Transbay Terminal and will begin operations in March 2015.

Jack Adams, Turner Construction, presented the Construction Update.
Scott Boule, TJPA Legislative Affairs & Community Outreach Manager, and Randy Volenec, Pelli Clarke Pelli Architects, presented the Sponsorship Presentation.

Vice Chair Nuru inquired on flexibility of the terms in regard to the number of years of sponsorship and how it would be managed within the organization. He supports the sponsorship concept but thinks the timeline is too tight to attract the type of funders that are comparable to the recent General Hospital $75 million donation which took a long time. Mr. Boule responded that minimum terms of the duration for sponsorship are identified but there is not a set maximum so the proposer can suggest longer terms. Executive Director Ayerdi-Kaplan further clarified that the timeframe for awarding this request for proposals is tied in to the opening of the Rooftop Park and Transit Center at the end of 2017.

Director Kim concurred with Vice Chair Nuru in regards to the timeframe and also suggested that staff meet with SF Beautiful and residents to get feedback.

Director Lee stated this is an exciting initiative. She inquired about the advertising policy and restrictions and suggested staff relook at the advertising policy to confirm it is effective to deal with potential issues. Deborah Miller, TJPA counsel, advised that the sponsorship will be more static than traditional advertising and will not change regularly but rather display the sponsor’s name or logo.

Chair Harper agreed with the other Directors’ comments and stated it will be beneficial to work with the Citizens Advisory Committee and SF residents on the parameters. He also suggested considering options and rights of first refusal in regards to the terms of the sponsorship. He expressed his support of the sponsorship concept and noted the importance of considering all the factors involved.

6. Citizens Advisory Committee (CAC) Update

Ted Olsson, CAC Chair, reported the CAC was pleased with the Vision Zero presentation that staff scheduled at a prior CAC meeting and suggested the Board might be interested in the same presentation. Vision Zero is a 10-year plan to reduce pedestrian, bicycle, and motorist deaths to zero. He proposed that the Transbay Transit Center be the exemplar of the Vision Zero objective and has suggested a meeting with Executive Director Ayerdi-Kaplan and her team and the Vision Zero team. In regards to the sponsorship request for proposals (RFP), he indicated if sponsorship dollars are not sufficient, no bids should be awarded and the RFP should be resubmitted closer to the end of completion of Phase 1 which could be more valuable and attractive at that time, component sponsorship is a great idea in lieu of large donations to sponsor the entire Transit Center, and depending on the terms accepted in a bid, such as a 10-year sponsorship, the CAC expressed concerns with name changing as the sponsorship changes. He also suggested exploring exhibits on the park, in partnership with the Exploratorium, focused on transportation and SF’s historic role as a regional hub including the politics involved in creating a project like this.
Vice Chair Nuru thanked Mr. Olsson for bringing up Vision Zero and advised that his agency is a signatory to the strategy to reduce the number of accidents by 2024. He suggested TJPA staff tap into Vision Zero on the communications and ideas being discussed to address large vehicles and referenced a safety video regarding large vehicles that is being prepared which all drivers should watch once it is complete. Director Kim stated she was glad the Vision Zero program was brought up and looks forward to the team’s participation in the large vehicle pedestrian and bicycle safety program. Executive Director Ayerdi-Kaplan concurred with the Directors and she advised Webcor and Turner to participate in the Vision Zero objective and ensure all drivers are getting the necessary training and watching the video as it is available.

7. Public Comment

Jim Patrick, Patrick & Company, provided comments on the Sponsorship presentation in regards to how to sell a product, the particulars on what is being sold, and his disagreement with offering a first right of refusal.
