

Transbay Transit Center

IT'S HAPPENING...

Community Meetings on the Transbay Transit Center Rooftop Park

JOIN US FOR A COMMUNITY MEETING

Construction is already underway to build the Transbay Transit Center, which will become the new heart of downtown San Francisco. One of the most unique components of the future Transit Center is the 5.4 acre rooftop park complete with gardens, amphitheater, children's play area, trails and an interactive fountain installation from artist Ned Kahn. This new park will create a unique new amenity for everyone who lives and works in the neighborhood and visits the Transbay Transit Center.

Join the Transbay Joint Powers Authority (TJPA) and renowned landscape architects Peter Walker and Partners to learn about the vision for the rooftop park of the Transbay Transit Center.

These events are open to the public. Refreshments will be served.

To RSVP to this event, please email Stephanie Reichin at Stephanie@Singersf.com
